MEMPHIS DAILY APPEAL.

MEMPHIS, TENN., MONDAY, JUNE 1, 1868. VOL. XVIII.—NO. 260

...on. Nor can any doubt that ... exposition of the Constitution were adopted and acted on by the people of the United States, we should have an immediate return to those halcyon days of prosperity, harmony and peace which raised our country to such a sublime hight of power, up to the accession of Lincoln to the Presidency. But we do not anticipate any result so fortunate as this for the people of this country. "Heresy and schism" have bloomed and matured in fruits of evil and corruption too apparent to expect such happiness. It is a much easier task to destroy than to create. And when we contemplate the gigantic proposition to rebuild from the broken fragments of a once glorious fabric, an original structure of government, and to fasten each constituent part in its first place, without its grand proportions being marred, the heart is almost appalled at the magnitude of the undertaking. And this is especially the case, when we come to consider that no Government, which has ever yet lost its original form and spirit, has ever been restored. In contemplating the fall of nations and the progress of revolutions, no fact is more apparent than this. Yet it does not follow that some changes may not be adopted, some rights restored, which may ameliorate the sad condition of things, and restore a share of that pristine vigor and prosperity which were inherent in the old Government. The wonderful energy of the races which inhabit our country, their native love of right and justice, their restlessness under the rule of corruptionists and tyrants, and the awakening of the masses to the true intent of those, who have so basely betrayed them, foreshadow an improvement of the theories and practice upon which we are to be hereafter governed. In this consists the advantage of a great and orthodox work like the one of Mr. Stephens. The people may not adopt the precise ideas and doctrines in toto which are so ably set forth and demonstrated by his pen. But they will be the better prepared to appreciate the heroism and sincerity of those who so nobly contended for these great principles, and they will at least be better disposed to compromise with them and to partially adopt them—perhaps to espouse their substance in the conduct of the Government hereafter. In this view, and further as a vindication of the motives, and as a logical demonstration of the soundness and patriotism of the men of the South, in the late struggle "between the States," this work is invaluable, and will stand as a text-book for future generations, wherein may be read a devotion to Constitutional Government and the true principles of the Union, on the part of the people of the Southern Confederacy, which no sophistry can shake or ingenious malice can destroy. Such a work was needed, and its author will receive the thanks of all who value the great Federal system as contradistinguished from the National system, and of all who would rescue from attempted obloquy the devoted men who, through four years of fiery trial, vindicated their claim to sublime patriotism and heroism.

[A CONSTITUTIONAL VIEW OF THE LATE WAR BETWEEN THE STATES: Its Causes, Character, Conduct and Results. Presented in a series of Colloquies, at Liberty Hall, by Alexander H. Stephens. Times change, and men often change with them, but principles never. In two vols.—Vol. I. The Board of Finance.

From Brownlow's Whig, 27th.]

The Board of Finance, created by the Legislature, convened in this city on the 20th inst., and adjourned to meet the next day, there not being a quorum on the first day. The President of the Board, Mr. Blackburn, tendered his resignation at Nashville, and Mr. Plunkett, the Secretary of the Board, tendered his resignation. The remaining three, Gov. Brownlow, Judge Watson and Treasurer Henry reorganized the Board. On motion of Gov. Brownlow, Judge Watson was chosen President and William Rule temporary Secretary. Hon. William Bo son was thereupon elected Secretary of the Board. A resolution was unanimously adopted, setting forth that the majority of the Board had no right to accept the resignations of the other two members of the Board addressed to them, and that their resignations should be tendered to the Legislature which created them members of said Board by special enactment. The President of the Board was authorized to go East and raise six hundred thousand dollars, to meet the deficiency likely to occur through the failure of the railroads to meet their semi-annual interest, but upon such terms as not to increase the indebtedness of the State. Should he find it practicable to negotiate six hundred thousand dollars in gold-bearing bonds at an interest of seven per cent., at par, then and in that case, he was authorized to call on the Governor for such bonds, but in no event is the amount to exceed six hundred thousand dollars. Should he succeed in his efforts, as it is believed he will, there will then be a sufficient amount of means in the treasury to put into successful operation, at once, our common schools.

As a resolution of the Board provides that no bonds of the State shall be bought without the assent of four members of the Board, no action was taken upon this subject, and as but three members remain in the Board, it is all stuff to talk about their intending an indiscriminate purchase of bonds. It is also idle to talk about issuing millions of gold-bearing interest bonds, or millions of any other character of bonds, when the President of the Board is restricted to the negotiation of six hundred thousand dollars only, and when the Governor will only issue that amount. This will meet the deficiency in the July interest, pay up a balance due from the State to the Fourth National Bank of New York, and supply the wants of our common schools. The subject then will be referred to the Legislature, which meets in November next, and nothing more will be done by the Board of Finance calculated in any degree to increase the indebtedness of the State.

SENIOR EDITOR.

TENNESSEE.

—Brownlow's Whig is earnestly defending Hon. S. M. Arnell, and intimates that his assailant in one of the Radical organs of this city, "is an aspirant for Mr. Arnell's seat in Congress, or a tool of some such aspirant."

—Knoxville is looking forward to the construction of water works.

—The Knoxville Loyal League, said by Brownlow's Whig to represent twenty-two councils and eight counties, has spoken right out in denunciation of "the seven recreant Senators" who voted against convicting the President, and beseeched Senator Fowler if he cannot consistently vote for the other articles, to abstain altogether from voting. Too late.

—The Somerville Fulcon of the 28th says: We regret to announce that Dr. Rivers has accepted the Presidency of the Logan Female College, at Russellville, Ky., and that his connection with the Somerville Female Institute will terminate with the present session.

TO S. E. S.

BY MARY E. POPE.

"Oh, wou'd I were not too cowardly to die!"

Oh, be not the coward to dream thus of death—
To blanch at the first cutting pang of a grief,
Despairing to mourn that the tempest's rude breath
In thy garland hath withered a summer-bright leaf;
But gird up thy loins, be strong for the fight—
'Tis the coward and traitor that prate thus of flight.

What though a sweet vision long cherished be o'er,
Life's plain, honest duties are sweeter than dreams,
To the true heart that shuts not its Heaven-blest door
To the claims of the love from the hearth-stone that beams.
They only are true hearts, they only are brave
Who live, not the cowards who flee to the grave.

The conflict is long, but there's bliss in the strife,
And hearts must not break, nor yet brokenly live;
The angels beside the glad fountain of life
Are waiting the victor the guerdon to give,
Who sheathed not his sword till the battle was done,
Who claimed not his rest till by flight it was won.

Ungrateful! cast round thee thy mist-blinded eyes—
On thy pathway a thousand sweet blossoms are strewn:
A thousand bright streams of refreshment arise,
And music and sunshine thy heart to attune
To the anthem of worship the morning stars sang,
And the chorus the angels in unison rang.

List but to that music: its echoes shall wake
A sweet, grateful melody deep in thy soul,
Divine as the rapturous anthem that brake
The silence when light on the universe stole.
Thus life shall grow beautiful spite of its pain,
The heart gush with love, trust and joy again.

FEBRUARY, 1861.

THINGS IN THE COUNTRY.

Editors Memphis Appeal:

During a recent brief trip into the country, I gathered a few items that may be interesting to your readers.

A NEW COUNTY.

A project has been started to create out of portions of Fayette, Tipton and Lauderdale, a new county, the name of which is not yet determined, but which will have for its county seat the flourishing little town of Mason, on the line of the Memphis and Ohio Railroad.

WENT A-FISHING.

On Wednesday, the Supreme Court that has been sitting at Brownsville, adjourned over to next Monday, so that the Judges could go a-fishing with some of the other boys, which they did, but didn't catch as many fish as a person would naturally expect.

RAILROAD ACCOMMODATIONS.

It is said that in a short time the only eating stations on the line of the Memphis and Louisville Railroad will be those at Humboldt and Bowling Green. The railroad princes believe that this will accommodate the traveling public better than any other arrangement that could be made. Under their auspices the Nelson House at Brownsville has been permanently closed, greatly to the regret of the good people of Brownsville. Its late proprietor, Mr. Charles Platt, has been induced to take an active share in the conducting of the eating house at Humboldt, which is henceforth to be under the proprietorship of the firm of Platt, Prescott & Co., and will be known as the Prescott House. The whole house has been thoroughly renovated—repapered, repainted, and so improved that few would recognize it as the former Humboldt House. Mr. Platt has conducted first class hotels and eating houses in Vicksburg, Washington City and various other places, and has a high reputation. Under his control the Prescott House at Humboldt will not only supply as good a table as any hotel or eating house in the country, but the sleeping accommodations will be all that travelers can desire. If this is done, it would be a mercy on the passengers by the Mobile and Ohio Road to have Humboldt for one of its baiting places.

THE NORTHWESTERN RAILROAD.

The punctuality with which trains on the Nashville and Northwestern Road are now run, is winning for the new Superintendent, Hon. F. S Richards, "golden opinions from all sorts of people." There is never a failure to make connections, and no road has its trains more strictly on time. Gov. Brownlow, not wishing to wait for the regular July election for Directors, had an election held at Waverly on last Monday and Tuesday. This has led to applications for injunctions and other law fusses, but the practical managers of the road are devoting their energies to making the road popular. They have some of the most sumptuous cars on any road in the South, and their route is the shortest we have between Memphis and Nashville. It is reported that the fare by it is to be reduced to ten dollars between Memphis and the State capital.

THE CROPS.

The crops generally look well, but in West Tennessee fruit has been largely affected by the frost. There is no less cotton planted this than previous years, but there is a much larger area of wheat.

POLITICAL.

It is said to be arranged among the leading Radicals that Hamilton is to get a complimentary nomination and then required to back down, on the ground that he is ineligible, if the charge of perjury in taking the candidate's oath is pressed upon him. Barbour Lewis having failed at Washington, is no longer after either the Postoffice or the Judgeship, but has a slight hankering after another good place.

IMMIGRATION.

Emigrants from Ohio and Pennsylvania are said to be settling in considerable numbers in Hickman county on the fruit-growing, sheep-raising ridge south of White Bluff Station, on the Northwestern road, in the mountain coves in Overton and Fentress counties, and in the rich bottom lands in Bradley county.

ANOTHER HOTEL CHANGE.

The McKenzie Hotel at McKenzie has gone again into the hands of Mr. McKenzie. Yours, TINTOR.

A GHASTLY SMILE.

Brownlow's Whig of the 27th has a brief paragraph on "Our Presidential Ticket," and "grins horribly a ghastly smile" of acceptance. It responds "Amen!" and says: "No man in the Republican ranks is more delighted with this ticket than is the Senior Editor of this paper. It is bound to win, no matter who opposes." The "Amen" we imagine is wrung from reluctant concession, and the delight would have been considerably augmented if the name of Brownlow had been inserted in place of Colfax's, which he says "is well and favorably known."

The delight expressed would have been more forcible, if the language had been slightly modified by the interpolation of "no aspirant for the place" in the Republican ranks, instead of "man." We can conceive that Brownlow's disappointment was not greater than that of Wade, who is said to be quite crushed, but it is scarcely possible it could be of such minute dimensions as to enable him to experience unqualified delight.

The wild declaration that "it is bound to win," is expressive of confidence, but that has yet to be tried. Perhaps not, with a fair field. But the latter clause "no matter who opposes" is so like some of the arbitrary acts of the "Senior Editor" in his Gubernatorial capacity, one might imagine he knew something, and there was a scheme afloat to get possession of the Government anyhow.

THE WAR BETWEEN THE STATES.

The first volume of the expected great work of Hon. Alex. H. Stephens, of Georgia, has been received in this city, by the agent, Mrs. Worley, and is now being delivered to subscribers. It is printed in a beautiful and substantial manner, and bound in various styles, to suit the taste of subscribers, and in a manner worthy of the valuable thoughts and expositions embodied in its pages. If there be any who are curious to inform their minds of the original character of the Government of the United States and its relations to the different States comprising the Union, set forth in the most perspicuous, simple and comprehensive style, and logically derived from the origin of the Government, the nature of the Constitution, the understanding of contemporaneous Statesmen, Legislatures and Congress, and the highest judicial and political authorities, from the formation of the Constitution to the beginning of the Civil War, they may be gratified by a perusal of this unquestionably philosophical and statesmanlike production.

It may be a fallacy to suppose that our Government can ever be brought back to its original character and objects. So wide has been the divergence from the theories upon which it was started by the founders, and so great and manifest are the interests, prejudices and passions to conciliate, before it can be restored as a Government founded on the paramount authority and sovereignty of the several States, and existing only by virtue of the delegated powers of these, that it may appear to be a vain employment to elaborate such a political exegesis as the one in question. Mr. Stephens himself, seems to have little hope of so favorable a turn of events. Whichever may be the party that shall succeed to power, the interests, prejudices and maxims of the multitude must seriously affect its career. The Democratic party is by no means wedded to the theory of right to the doctrine of State Rights which Mr. Stephens, with so much logic and so conclusively, establishes. Were it to adopt in full his political doctrines, it would certainly be defeated at the next election. Yet it is none the less true that these doctrines are the true inspirations of the authors of the Constitution and of all those eminent statesmen whose administration of the Government contributed so high a degree of prosperity and glory to the country and the people. No philosophical mind can examine this theory, as seen by the light of Mr. Stephens' authority and reasoning, without coming to such

POPULAR WORKS ON FREEMASONRY

PUBLISHED BY THE

MASONIC PUBLISHING

—AND—

MANUFACTURING COMPANY,

432 Broome Street, New York.

LITURGY OF THE ANCIENT AND Accepted Scottish Rite of Freemasonry, for the Southern Jurisdiction of the United States. By Albert Pike, 33d, Sov. Grand Commander. 8vo. Splendidly illustrated with Chromo-lithographic plates and numerous wood engravings, Part II, 4th to 14th degree, $5 00.

☞ It would perhaps seem unnecessary after giving the above title-page to say anything farther in the way of recommendation. The name of the author should of itself be a sufficient guarantee of its worth. Ill. Bro. Pike, by his learning and contributions has done as much to elevate the standard of Masonic literature and extend a knowledge of its symbolism, ethics and history as any other living man. This book, in its particular department, may justly be considered a master-piece, embracing matter not only useful to the Masonic student of every grade, but to men of science in the highest literary field of the present age. Notwithstanding this book has been preceded by several of a similar character, yet to Bro. Pike alone is due the honor of first exploring this branch of Masonic literature and of opening to the admiration of the Craft its vast storehouse of knowledge and beauty. This work contains the degrees of the Ancient and Accepted Rite from the fourth to the fourteenth inclusive, is elegantly illustrated with chromo-lithograph engravings, showing all the jewels, costume, furniture, etc., belonging to each degree. No expense has been spared in getting it up, and it is without doubt the most elegant, as well as one of the most useful books, ever offered to the Fraternity.

Published and for sale by the Masonic Publishing and Manufacturing Company, 432 Broome street, New York, and Booksellers generally in the United States.

☞ Copies of the above for the Memphis Brethren are ready for delivery at the Editorial Rooms of the APPEAL, 14 Jefferson street, upstairs. 1w jan29

For President of the United States,

ANDREW JOHNSON,

OF TENNESSEE.

[Subject only to the decision of the National Democratic Conservative Convention.]

DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.

By direction of the Democratic Central Committee, a State Convention is called, to assemble at the city of Nashville, on the 9th day of June, 1868, for the purpose of appointing delegates to attend the National Democratic Convention, which will meet at the city of New York, on the 4th day of July next.

The people of the different counties throughout the State, are requested to hold County Conventions and appoint delegates to represent them in said State Convention.

All persons opposed to the policy of the Radical party are cordially invited to participate.

Democratic and Conservative newspapers of the State are requested to publish this call.

By order of the Central Committee,
THOS. B. JENNINGS, Chm'n.
L. D. WALKER, Sec'y.

COUNTY CONVENTION.—In obedience to the request of the State Central Democratic Committee, I hereby call upon all Conservatives and Democrats in Shelby county to assembly at the Exchange Building on Monday evening, June 1st, at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of selecting delegates to represent Shelby county in the Convention to be held at Nashville on the 9th of June next, which has been called to appoint delegates to attend the National Democratic Convention to assemble in New York the 4th day of July next. A full attendance is desired, and complete and thorough reorganization must be effected.

By order of the County Executive Committee
M. D. L. STEWART, Chairman.

TO THE OLD WHIGS AND DEMOCRATS OF TENNESSEE.

Permit us once more to reason with you, in the cause of the country.

We find this in our telegraphic dispatches:

"AUGUSTA, GA., May 29.—Six citizens of Hamburg, S. C., were arrested yesterday for refusing to allow negroes to hold an official" [political ?] "meeting in the Union CHURCH in that town. They are to be tried before a Military Commission at Aiken, S. C., by order of General Canby."

Major Power, commandant of the post at Holly Springs, in the Province of Mississippi, has, it is distinctly alleged by a responsible party, caused the arrest, at the instance of vagabond negroes, of several respectable young men, charged with the crime of being "suspect" of belonging to the Ku-Klux Klan; and an order for the arrest of Col. David C. Cross, of Cross county, Arkansas, was a few weeks ago issued by the officer in charge of the Freedman's Bureau, upon a charge of the same sort, made by a negro.

"Ye shall know them by their fruits. Do men gather grapes of thorns, or figs of thistles? Even so every good tree bringeth forth good fruit, but a corrupt tree bringeth forth evil fruit . . . wherefore by their fruits ye shall know them."

Is it not time that the Upas-tree of Jacobinism, which brings forth everywhere such evil fruit, should be "hewn down and cast into the fire?"

Did any of the Whigs or Democrats of Tennessee dream, even ten years ago, that the day would ever come in any Southern State, when a military Satrap, invested with the powers of despotism, would proclaim it to be a crime for citizens to refuse to permit a political meeting of negroes to be held in a church dedicated to the worship of God, and the orgies of semi-barbarians to be held around His Altar? or that, for such an offence against the majesty of military despotism, the actors would be ordered to be tried by a military commission and probably sentenced to some years' imprisonment on the Dry Tortugas?

We will not assume that the seven young Alabamians, heretofore gentlemen of good repute, who, not very many days ago, by virtue of the sentence of one of those convenient engines of despotism,—Military Commission, were conveyed, chained together, on the deck of a steamer, like galley-slaves or Botany-Bay convicts, to an imprisonment of two years in that accursed Province of Hell, the Dry Tortugas, were innocent of offence, and could not have been convicted in any Christian Court, although we do believe it, and that the whole procedure, their arrest, their trial, their sentence, would have disgraced the administration of injustice by a Spanish South American Viceroy, dealing with mutinous Indians, or a subordinate devil of Cortez or Pizarro, or an underling of Verres, when that wretch lorded it over Sicily.

But we do ask the old Whigs and Democrats of Tennessee, whether it is not plain to them, that when over the broad extent of a whole State, the Constitution and its guarantees have disappeared, as the blue Heavens and their stars do when the tempest rages; when the laws are either wholly abrogated, or exist and have a semi-vitality, only at the sufferance of shoulder-straps, jackboots and the sabre; when no one, rebel or loyal, can avail himself of the privilege of the writ of Habeas Corpus, and the Courts sneak into coverts, and palter and equivocate under the pressure of military power, and even the Supreme Court bends like a reed before the imperious will of Congress, so that a citizen of a Province, or subject of the Central Despotism which by the worst of men misgoverns the country, cannot have redress when arrested and imprisoned by a General, for "impeding reconstruction" or the guilt of lese majeste in speaking plainly of His Imperial Highness' faults; when in ten States the people are so governed, no men any where are safe and secure in the possession of their rights of English liberty?

Are you safe, in Tennessee? If for the present not destroyed, or deprived of your rights, is not your immunity at sufferance, and because you sustain the Jacobin faction in its war upon the Constitution and the country and the laws of God and Nature, and the principles of common justice and right reason? If you were to be compelled, by the stirrings of your consciences, to throw off your allegiance to that faction of Moloch, Mammon and Beelzebub,—if you were to follow your own present convictions and sense and knowledge of what is right and patriotic and not wicked and villainous and treasonable, and join those who seek to preserve the Constitution and the free government of the country, instead of adhering to and serving without pay the rascally cabal that is virtually the committee of Public Safety, and whose two heads are Stevens and Butler,—if you were to become again what you were in 1844, and act upon the principles which then, whether Whigs or Democrats, you professed, do you not know that the same crushing and brutal military despotism would be enthroned over you, and the Inquisition and Bastile and letters de cachet established in Tennessee?

The Republic that establishes Despotism over its Provinces or Colonies, is false and traitorous to the principles by which it holds its own freedom; and it not only prepares itself to be enslaved, but makes it a laudable act in the Cæsar or Napoleon, to put an end to a license and power which it abuses, a liberty of which it is unworthy. The United States, governing the South with the rod of iron and whip of scorpions of an arrogant and insulting Military Despotism, become unworthy and unfit to be free, and the world and history would applaud the man who should strip the arrogant Republic of its tawdry robes of free government and subject it to his imperial will,—especially if he should hang, or sentence to menial occupations the scavengers and bullies, the knaves and pimps and parasites of faction, who now lord it over the dishonored land.

Rome prepared itself to submit, not only to the successful soldiers Marius and Sylla, and the Soldier and Statesman Cæsar, but also to the selfish, heartless and cruel trickster of narrow intellect, Octavius, by creating despotisms wherever its victorious arms gave Provinces to the Republic. For the people that is truly imbued with the spirit of freedom, not only desires to be free itself, but that other peoples should be so likewise; and the people that establishes despotisms is like a man who should infect his neighbours with a loathsome and deadly disease, and himself expect, remaining in close neighborhood and contact with them, to escape the contagion of the pestilence so generated, and live, while his victims died around him, and rotted under his very nostrils.

The corpses of six States lie around Tennessee, in which TENNESSEE has assisted to plant and to spread the contagion and hideous infection of the selfish and soulless despotism that soon crushes out all courage and manliness in the souls of a people subjected to it—the despotism that violates and defiles the soul before it murders and the body; that operates on the ambitious, who once imagined themselves patriots, and true to the States of their birth, as the lotus and the draught of Circe did upon the companions of Ulysses, changing them into grunting and greedy swine. Can a State so girt about with despotisms, itself long remain uncontaminated? Has not despotism always proven contagious? Does it not spread and travel like the cholera? Must not those who, in the ruling State, are opposed to its outrages on human liberty, be repressed and put down by force and the abrogation of law, lest they should become dangerous and jeopardize the faction in power? Must they not be arrested and imprisoned, or bought and bribed, or in some other way silenced? Must not their steps be dogged and their residences haunted, by male and female spies? Must not their private correspondence be under the surveillance of some Fouche or Dog Butler? Must not their telegraphic dispatches be demandable by Congressional or Legislative Committees, from the companies or agents to whom they were entrusted?

Whence has Governor Brownlow had the power to appoint judges for the last two years? Did you confer it on him? Would you have yielded your right to elect your judges to any man? With what semblance of constitutionality could the Legislature, your agents, invest him with the power to cancel the registrations of voters and deprive the people of a whole county of the right to vote? By what warrant has he removed from office Registers lawfully appointed, and annulled their action had even prior to such pretended removal?

Are you sure that Military Commissions may not be established in Tennessee, some day, to try citizens, to try you, for offences newly defined and created by ex post facto laws, or if for those already known to the law, then in despite of your Constitution that guarantees you the right of trial by jury?

You know that, although the United States had the right, when the war ended, to regard the States that had seceded, and been recognized as belligerents, as subjugated, and to exercise over them the right of conquest, to govern them as Territories or Provinces, by means of civil governments established by act of Congress, they had no more right, as a Christian people of the nineteenth century, a republican people, with the Declaration of Independence and Constitution for their creed, to set up Military Despotisms, and authorize such men as Sheridan and Sickles to make and abrogate laws and replace courts with military commissions, than they had to resort to the rack to extort confessions, or revive the other bloody and inhuman practices of the middle age. To do this was a national crime. You are parties to it. Do not imagine that God will not signally punish it. Crime, individual or national, is invariably and inevitably followed by its consequences, which men call its punishment. Spain, once the first power in Europe, and whose viceroyalities were in every quarter of the globe, now fallen into decay, and without power or influence or intellectual vigour, is paying the tremendous penalty of its crimes committed in Mexico and South America and its hideous tyrannies in the Netherlands. England will surely pay, is on the eve of paying, the penalty for the long despotism with which it has tortured Ireland. The Providence of God always at the last avenges the oppressed; and the day of the vengeance of the Lord will of a surety come for the United States.

NISI PER LEGEM TERRÆ:—UNLESS BY THE LAW OF THE LAND. Upon these words of MAGNA CHARTA, Lord Coke remarks, (2d Instit. 51):

"Against this ancient and fundamental law, and in the face thereof, I finde an act of Parliament made, [11 Henry VII, ch. 3], that as well Justices of Assise, as Justices of Peace (without any finding or presentment by the verdict of twelve men), upon a bare information for the King before them made, should have full power, and authority by their discretions to heare, and determine all offences, and contempts committed or done by any person, or persons against the form, ordinance and effect of any statute made, and not repealed, etc. By colour of which act, shaking this fundamental law, it is not credible what horrible oppressions, and exactions, to the undoing of infinite numbers of people, were committed by Sir Richard Empson, Knight, and Edm. Dudley, being Justices of the Peace, throughout England; and upon this unjust and injurious act (as commonly in like cases it falleth out), a new office was erected, and they made masters of the King's forfeitures.

But at the Parliament, holden in the first year of Henry VIII, this act of 11 H. 7, is recited, and made void and repealed, and the reason thereof is yeelded, for that by force of the said act, it was manifestly known, that many sinister, and crafty, feigned, and forged informations, pursued against divers of the kings subjects, to their great damage, and wrongful vexation, and the ill-success hereof, and the fearful ends of these two oppressors, should deterre others from committing the like, and should admonish Parliaments, that instead of this ordinary, and pretious trial per legem terræ, they bring not in absolute, and partial trialls by discretion."

These were the principles of the old English liberty. Such was the atmosphere which Burke and Chatham breathed, and in it grew great and strong, as Holt, and Hale, and Somers and Camden had done. It is on the miasma that poisonously exhales from the body politic, when the internal disease is outwardly manifested by Military Commissions and illegal seizures, arrests and trials and villainous impeachments, that the Stevenses, Butlers, Boutwells and Binghams thrive.

It was charged, during our civil war, that a hideous and disgusting disease was intentionally communicated to men and women, by vaccine matter taken from patients known to be infected. The innocent victims rotted, like Herod and Louis XV, before they died. So Jacobinism has infected ten States with the poison of despotic power, enslaving the people, and teaching those among them who love office and profit better than honour, how to truckle and become renegades and apostates.

Of course there are men who desire the reinstatement in power of the Democratic party, in order that they may personally profit by it. These, if it should succeed, would undoubtedly wish to proscribe all who had not of old been of the Democratic fold. Men are not angels; and the bad must be used by the statesman as well as the good. But why can you not, in common charity and justice, believe that the mass of the Conservatives of Tennessee have no such desires or purposes, and retaining none of the animosities engendered by the war, desire a union of hearts as well as hands, of all who dread the further success of Jacobinism, for the single purpose of rescuing and saving the country?

Believe this or not, as you may, it is true. The number of those Conservatives who will work with any expectation or desire of reward, other than the welfare of the country, is insignificant; and there are very many who expect to be ostracised when the victory shall have been won; and whose zeal and ardour this conviction in no degree diminishes or cools.

We offer you our hands, with an honest purpose to serve and save the country. If you do not know and feel that it is in danger, you are to be pitied. If you do know it, and are indifferent to the result, or so abjectly the slaves of party or of your prejudices and passions, that you will not abandon those leaders whom you surely cannot either respect or trust, you are to be pitied still more. You have the destiny of your State in your own hands.

TENNESSEE.

—The Knoxville Press of the 29th ult. says of the wheat crop: We were informed Thursday, by Maj. Sawyers, of Rutledge, that the present indications are that not over one third of the amount of wheat will be harvested through East Tennessee, that the farmers have anticipated. Maj. Sawyers has traveled extensively through the Eastern part of the State, and has had a good opportunity to judge of the present crop. The same paper says: A child of Thos. Munsy, who resides on the north side of the railroad, met with a dreadful death on Wednesday, caused by its falling into a sinkhole. The child was missing three hours before found.

—Capt. Tom. Bell, of Dresden, Tenn., died at his home near that place on the 21st inst.

—The Paris Intelligencer of the 30th ult. says: The funeral of Sir Knight Wm. M. Maxwell will be preached at Caledonia the third Sunday in July. There will be a Masonic procession. All neighboring Lodges are invited to attend, by order of the Commandery. The same paper says: Jackson, the gentleman of color who robbed Kahn and others—the same that was arrested by Mr. J. B. Milam—has been sentenced to the penitentiary for ten years.

—Egbert G. Hill, Esq., an able and eloquent lawyer of Dyer county, died of hemorrhage of the lungs, at his home in Dyersburg, on Wednesday last. He leaves a wife and several children to mourn their irreparable loss.

—Neal's State Gazette of the 30th, says of the wheat crop, "We are very glad to hear favorable accounts from the wheat crop of Dyer county. The knowing ones tell us that the yield will be a third larger this season than it was last year."

—On Thursday last, a short distance from Jonesboro, a man named Dillon and a companion were blasting rock on the line of the Knoxville and Kentucky Railroad, when, by a premature explosion, Dillon was killed and the other fatally injured.

—The Knoxville Press and Herald of the 30th says: An election takes place to-day in the 4th Judicial Circuit for Attorney General. Mr. A. A. Hyde, the present incumbent, holds his position by an appointment from Gov. Johnson, and it having been ratified by the schedule of amendments to the Constitution is tantamount to an election for six years. But as he failed to secure the conviction of Col. Mitch Edwards of sedition, Brownlow declared a vacancy in his office and ordered an election for to-day. Andy Trewhitt, brother to the Chancellor, is the only candidate for the office, and Mr. Hyde announces his intention to hold on to the office. It will make a pretty quarrel before it is settled.

—The Rev. Peter C. Fagin, well and favorably known, especially among the young Catholics of Brooklyn, as the pastor of St. Patrick's church in Kent avenue, died Friday last. He was in his thirty-fifth year, and had won himself hosts of friends in New York and Brooklyn.

BY TELEGRAPH.

Night Dispatches.

NASHVILLE.

NASHVILLE, May 31.—The State Central Committee of the Republican party of Tennessee will announce in the Press and Times of to-morrow the postponement of the State Convention from June 10th to the second Wednesday in August. The Convention is called to nominate an electoral ticket.

RICHMOND.

RICHMOND, May 31.—It is now probable that the trial of Jefferson Davis will be postponed until October, as the counsel on both sides have agreed to that time. Witnesses had been subpœned for next Wednesday. Mr. Davis has not arrived here in view of the probability of postponement.

GEORGIA.

AUGUSTA, May 31.—The citizens arrested at Hamburg and carried to Aiken, were released on promise of giving bail for their appearance when the trial takes place.

Accounts from Southwestern Georgia represent that the negroes are working well. One-third less cotton has been planted than last year. The plants are looking vigorous and healthy. There is plenty of corn and wheat planted, and the planters anticipate a large yield.

SAN FRANCISCO.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 27.—An official report from Captain Munson announces the result of a conflict with a party of thirty or forty Indians in the vicinity of Paradise Valley, Northeastern California, on May 7th. Munson's forces consisted of fifty-nine men belonging to the Ninth Infantry and Eighth cavalry. The Indians occupied a strong position in the mountains, but were driven from it after four hours' fighting, with loss of several killed. The troops lost one killed and two wounded.

WEATHER AND RIVERS.

LOUISVILLE, May 31.—Passed—Ozark from Arkansas river for Cincinnati; Sam J. Hale, from Memphis for Cincinnati.

The river is falling, with 6½ feet in the canal. Weather clear and warm.

EVANSVILLE, May 31.—The river has fallen 20 inches.

ST. LOUIS, May 31.—Arrived—Marble City, Memphis; Mollie Able, New Orleans. Departed—W. R. Arthur and barges, New Orleans.

River falling with 3 feet 5 inches on lower, and 4½ feet on upper rapids.

There is a good stage of water in the Missouri and Illinois rivers. Over 5000 tons of freight left for New Orleans last week.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—The entire number of soldiers registered in this city is 279.

The parties who applied for a writ of mandamus on pledges of election, to show cause why their names should not be stricken from the list of the registered voters of this city, which application was to-day refused by the court in general term, have sent a copy of the decision to Gen. Grant, with an application for the issuing of an order by him, to restrain all soldiers in this city from leaving their barracks on Monday while the election is in progress.

Lawrence, Minister to Costa Rica, has been removed. Mr. Seward gives Lawrence the privilege of leaving Costa Rica before the arrival of his successor on the delivery of the enclosed sealed letter to the President of that Republic announcing his recall.

Mr. Seward on the same date addressed Baron Geratt, the Prussian Minister, bringing to his attention facts concerning the duel, and that Baron Von Kuzzenkow, the secretary, and Count Sattem, an attache of the embassy, had violated an act of Congress, and that by the laws of nations they are protected from prosecution, and asking that he will call the attention of his Government thereto, that they may in proper manner be made sensible of its displeasure.

The House will take up the Ohio contested election case this week. A majority of the committee give the seat to McDeland, the contestant, stating his majority to be eighty-one. The minority of the committee, Kerr and Chandler, claim that McMorgan, sitting member, was elected by 142 majority.

The impeachment managers intend to examine to-morrow Gen. Adams, whose name appears in connection with testimony taken heretofore.

MISSISSIPPI.

—The Pontotoc Paper of the 28th says: Some persons are disposed to treat as a joke our allusion of week before last, to a reaction among the colored voters of the South upon the subject of politics. Evidence is accumulating every day to strengthen our honest conviction of the fact. Radical leaders may be blind to it now—we care not if they are—but in due time it will be seen. We dare venture the prediction, that in our neighboring county of Lee, if not in this, at the approaching election, half of the negroes will either vote the Conservative ticket or not vote at all.

—The Water Valley Eagle of the 30th publishes H. L. Ozier as a perfidious villain who has heartlessly deserted his wife—once an Odd Fellow, but long since expelled from that order.

—The Cincinnati Commercial indorses the appointment of Gen. Schofield as Secretary of War, and says: "If the President, instead of trying his ad interim experiment with Lorenzo Thomas, had appointed Schofield on the 22d of February last, he would have disposed of Stanton—'plucked the thorn out of his heart'—and saved the country the turmoil of the impeachment. Gen. Schofield in charge of the War Office, is an assurance, that the country will receive with pleasure, of peace and the good management of the business of the department."

GENERAL ITEMS.

—On Thursday last, at St. Joseph, Mo., Joseph Ribidoux, the oldest native of Missouri, died. He was born where St. Louis now stands, eighty-five years ago.

—Professor Rogers, of Boston, has invented a plan to light the five thousand street lamps of that city by electricity, the entire task to be accomplished in one-third of a minute. It is claimed that the invention, if adopted, will save Boston $50,000 a year.

—A careful canvass has shown that there is not one white Radical in Tallapoosa county, Ala., which has a total population of 23,000.

—On Wednesday next the Alabama State Democratic and Conservative Convention is called to meet in the city of Montgomery. The counties generally have appointed delegates, and it is expected a large number will attend.

—The body of Judge Andrew Monroe has been found in the canal at Louisville, in a far advanced stage of decomposition. He was the son of Hon. Thomas B. Monroe, Judge of the United States District Court.

TENNESSEE.

—The Press and Times of the 30th says: "An evening or two ago some of the convicts in the penitentiary who worked in the carpenter's shop smuggled tools into their cells, and at a late hour in the night began operating on their doors. Some of them passed out and reached as far as the outer door, which is of wood, and were vigorously boring holes through it with augers when the diligent guard on watch discovered them. They threw away their instruments hastily, and noiselessly mounted to their cells and pretended to be fast asleep. They were found out, and next morning a rational quantity of punishment was accorded, and due precautions taken to prevent a recurrence of the attempt."

FUNERAL NOTICE.

SUMMER RESORT.

Randall House,

Madison, Wisconsin,

B. JEFFERSON, : PROPRIETOR.

THIS is a new and thoroughly modern Hotel in every particular. Madison is very justly termed by Bayard Taylor the Eden City of the West. Situated as it is in the immediate vicinity of four beautiful little inland lakes, which abound in the various varieties of fresh water fish, and whose surface is dotted with little steam and sail vessels, devoted entirely to purposes of pleasure, whose monotonous pebbly beaches are occasionally interspersed by its mossy boulders, overshadowed by heavy foliage, and from whose outer borders are opened the broad prairies for which the West is so noted—the wild game which affords such lively sporting amusement from earliest autumn. Madison is distant 130 miles northwest from Chicago, and can be reached in 34 hours from Memphis (all rail), and with only two changes of cars (Cairo and Chicago). Its adjacency to Memphis, its salubrious atmosphere, and, above all, the economy, recommends it to families in this vicinity. Parties can send their families to remain during the heated term at a fourth less in cost as compared to Saratoga and other eastern resorts. ma31 2ws

TO THE PATRONS OF THE APPEAL.

Subscribers are requested to report any irregularities in the delivery of the APPEAL at the Countingroom. Carriers will be furnished weekly with certificates authorizing them to collect subscriptions.

ED. J. MANSFORD,
Superintendent of Circulation.

ARRIVALS.—We notice among the arrivals at the Commercial Hotel, Col. H. W. Owen, Arkansas; Col. J. T. Armstrong, Maj. J. B. Hart, T. S. Horn, Esq., Arkansas, and Capt. R. R. Caldwell, Trenton, Tenn.

JAIL DELIVERY.—The fire on Saturday night caused a general delivery of the prisoners confined in the Adams street station house. Most of them were in for trivial offenses, and all of them are well known to the police who will probably re-arrest most of them.

EXCURSION TICKETS.—For delegates to the National Democratic Convention at New York, half fare will be charged on the route via Memphis and Louisville Railroad—$38 25 to go and return, and be good until 20th July. Tickets may be secured at the office, No. 257½ Main street.

BURGLARY.—On Saturday night, between the hours of 2 and 3 o'clock, the house of Mrs. White, No. 111 Court street, was broken into, and a lot of crockery, dishes and cooking utensils stolen therefrom. The rogues finding, after starting, that they had gotten too big a load to carry, left some of the plunder in an adjoining alley.

ALL IN THE FAMILY.—There is a little paper published over in Alabama somewhere, that has for its motto "Sit lux." A darkey Justice of the Peace in the town where it is published, lately caused its editor to be arrested under Meade's Kuk-lux order, alleging that the names were all the same—"it is changed de fust part of it—can't fool me!"

PIC-NIC TO-DAY.—Let not our readers forget the pic-nic to-day at Ford's place, Chelsea. Every arrangement has been made to make the affair one of unalloyed pleasure; and the object for which it is given is a holy and a noble one—the completing a house built for the worship of the Almighty God. Every member of St. Mary's parish, and the friends of of the church should make an effort to go.

A CLEAN DOCKET—NO BOARDERS.—The Hotel de Beaumont, on Adams street, was yesterday without a boarder. For the first time since this "delightful place of public resort" was opened the table d'hote presented a beggarly row of empty chairs. The boarders all took French leave on Saturday night, alleging that the rooms were too warm. The Colonel and his able corps of subs are, however, busily drumming up customers, and hope soon again to have all the seats occupied.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES YESTERDAY.—The churches around the city and suburbs were generally very well attended yesterday. In the Roman Catholic and Episcopal churches the services peculiar to Whitsunday were performed, and drew large and attentive congregations. In the Baptist Tabernacle, the Rev. Dr. Ford delivered an eloquent sermon to a large and intelligent congregation, at 11 o'clock a.m. His text was from the Epistle of James, "Behold how great a matter a little fire kindleth." The learned doctor directed his discourse principally to the power of language—spoken and written—and handled his subject ably.

THE WEATHER.—Yesterday was another burning summer day. At noon the sun, almost vertical, poured down a dazzling flood of light and heat, driving man and beast to seek shelter from the burning deluge, beneath the shade of home, or the green trees of the park. Nor did the heat abate until four or five o'clock, although about one, a slight southerly breeze sprang up and somewhat mitigated the temperature. The glare of the sun was peculiarly painful to the eyes, which in vain sought relief from the dazzling reflections of the buildings lining the streets. Everybody and everything—even the river, looked languishing and sluggish. But this is only a foretaste of what we may expect for three months to come, so we may as well make up our minds to get used to it, and "take it coolly."

POLICE ITEMS.

—Sergt. Atlee, of the metropolitan police force, yesterday recovered and returned to the owner a lot of clothing belonging to Mrs. Bryant.

—There was only one arrest made up to 7 o'clock last night at the Adams street station. After 8 o'clock the police were quite lively—no less than ten arrests having been made between that time and 11 o'clock.

—Several Washington detectives are at present in the city, one or two belonging to the Treasury Department force. Some deviltry is up, certain.

—A negro was knocked down last night on the levee, and robbed of twenty dollars, by two white men, one of whom escaped, and the other was arrested and locked up in the Adams street station.

—Col. Beaumont is determined to suppress street-walking. Orders were given yesterday to arrest every street-walker that was found on the streets after dark. Four of them were grabbed at one haul last night.

—To-day a decision will be rendered in the Rankin-Bullock-Brusa-Williams-Millard-Mitchell embroglio, by 'Squire Hall.

NEW WHEAT.—In our notice yesterday of the new wheat which was shown us, grown on the farm of W. H. Walker, Esq., of Panola county, Miss., we neglected to state that it was consigned to Messrs. White, Kerr & Rootes, cotton factors and commission merchants, No. 394 Main street, and by them forwarded to St. Louis, where these gentlemen will have no doubt, the credit of getting the first new wheat into that market.

THE FIRE SATURDAY NIGHT.

Corrections, and Further Particulars.

Our account of the extensive conflagration which occurred on Saturday night, was gotten up very hurriedly, it being very late at the time and near our hour of going to press. Under the circumstances, several errors and omissions occurred, which we correct below.

The corner grocery, where the fire originated, was occupied by A. N. Anderson & Co., whose losses are covered by insurance, and will amount to $3000.

The harness and saddlery establishment was not owned by Messrs. Williams & Co., but by Messrs. Barbee & Co.

In addition to the span of horses that we mentioned as having been burned, a fine stallion belonging to Col. Grant, two more horses, a bear, a deer, a goat, and some chickens were roasted to death, and their black and charred remains were yesterday to be seen among the still smoking embers.

The total losses will reach $15,000, of which $3000 worth only is insured.

INTERESTING CEREMONIES.

The Rite of Confirmation Administered at St. Peter's Church, to nearly Two Hundred Persons.

Confirmation is a sacrament by which the faithful who have already received baptism, are received into full communion with the church, by the imposition of the hands of the Bishop, or, in other words, it is the rite supplemental of baptism, and is called confirmation because those who receive it are confirmed and strengthened for the fulfillment of their Christian duties. The Right Rev. Bishop Feehan, of the Diocese of Tennessee, yesterday morning administered, at St. Peter's Church, the rite to nearly two hundred young persons of both sexes, in the presence of over a thousand worshippers. The ceremonies throughout, were most solemn and interesting, and held the vast assemblage which filled the magnificent gothic church, spell-bound for hours. The music was as ever, splendid. The master-piece for the occasion being Wels' grand mass for four voices,—the last performed by the late Professor Whaples, before his death. In the solos, "Domine Deus," and "Qui sedes ad dextram," the glorious soprano voices of Mrs. Miles and Miss Nora Bradford, rang through chancel, nave and choir, thrilling and filling the whole church with a flood of music. The "Agnus dei," duo by Mrs. Miles and Mr. Jacowich was very fine, as was the "Dona Nobis" of Miss Bradford and Mr. Jacowich, and the "Gratias agimus tibi," (soprano and barytone duet) of Miss Bradford, and J. H. Hobday. The organ was managed by Professor Winkler who is a most accomplished musician, and succeeded in fully bringing out the beauties of that splendid instrument. The Bishop was assisted in his arduous labors by Father Kelly, as officiating priest, Father Powers, deacon, and Father O'Brian, sub-deacon. The ceremonies lasted from 10½ to 2½ o'clock, a period of four hours. After confirmation the orphan children were taken to the parsonage and given a good dinner, and sent home, under the care of the good Sisters, rejoicing.

DRAYMENS' MEETING.

Report of Committee Appointed to Wait on the Senators and Representatives.

Pursuant to resolution of adjournment at their last meeting, the carters and draymen assembled Saturday night in the Municipal Hall, to receive the report of the Committee appointed to wait on the Hon. T. A. Hamilton and F. S. Richards. On being called on the Committee made the following report:

Your Committee, to whom it was given to wait on our Representatives, beg leave to submit, That we waited on Hon. T. A. Hamilton and F. S. Richards, our leading Representative and Senator, and they severally expressed the opinion that Drays were not supposed to be covered by the provisions of the law taxing vehicles; that they were omitted in the schedule; and as they were well acquainted with all the legislation on that subject, it was not the intent of the law that Drays should be taxed. Also, that they had no hesitation in giving publicity to this, their opinion.

Your Committee here would further recommend that a vote of thanks be tendered our Representative, T. A. Hamilton, and Senator W. J. Smith, for the ready disposition evinced in enabling us to understand the tenor and intent of the law, and for the courtesy and frankness with which they treated our inquirers for relief from this enormous burden sought to be imposed on us.

C. D. MANNIGAN,
D. L. SULLIVAN,
JOHN CROWLEY,

The report was received and the following resolutions were then offered by Mr. Hannigan and carried nem. con.:

The Committee on Council are authorized to draw on the Treasurer for the necessary amount to defend any suit at law, that may arise, wherein any member of the organization may be a party. And this motion shall be understood, that all parties who have neglected to come forward with subscription fees to this Association, shall not be entitled to its benefits or protection.

There being no further business before the meeting, it was moved, seconded and carried that the meeting adjourn sine die.

A CARD.—If the wonderful results from the use of Dr. J. D. Stillman's "Great Restorative" to health were before the public, astonishment would be uncontrolled, and incredulity seize the imagination. It is perhaps the only medicine known, that seems applicable to all kinds and conditions of disease, as it immediately and thoroughly removes from the blood all impurities, and imparts elements of vigor, new life and strength to the system. It is peculiarly suited to General Debility from Chills and Fever, also Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Consumption. Never in the world's history has a medicine so replete with health-inspiring qualities been discovered; and as the intelligent public become familiar with its great properties, they have not words to express their satisfaction. The "Great General Restorative" is no oriental, antediluvian, Indian, Shaker, Rotterdam, or any other foreign mixture, but a Memphis discovery. NEGRO GARROTERS.

A Daring Attempt at Garroting on Second Alley, near Jefferson Street.

Two Garroters Caught.

Last night, about half after ten o'clock, the sharp crack of a pistol was heard, proceeding apparently from the corner of Second alley and Jefferson street. On proceeding to the spot we learned that a policeman had caught three negroes in the act of garroting and 'going through' a fourth. On seeing him approach, the garroters left their victim and fled, the policeman after them. He fired one shot, but as the alley was dark, and they had considerable start of him, he desisted from firing any more.

We learned afterward at Adams street station that two of the nigger garroters had been caught and put in the lock-up.

THE THROUGH MAILS.

Letter from Captain W. J. Ross, General Superintendent of the Memphis and Charleston Railroad.

We have received the following communication and inclosures from Capt. W. J. Ross, the General Superintendent of the Memphis and Charleston Railroad. Why the newspaper referred to in his article, chose to take the course it has toward the gentleman and the road he represents, in a matter of public interest, is not for us to say or explain. We suppose, however, that the astute business managers of that paper had good reasons (in their own estimation) for so acting:

MEMPHIS AND CHALESTON RAILROAD,
GENERAL SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE
MEMPHIS, TENN., May 31, 1868.

Editors Memphis Appeal:

In the Memphis Bulletin of the 30th inst. a communication appeared, purporting to emanate from the Washington correspondent of that paper, dated Washington, May 28, 1868, complaining of the irregularity of the mails from the South and the Southwest. Being satisfied the Washington correspondent was in error, I addressed the following note to the editor of the Bulletin. (I herewith inclose a copy of the note, marked A.) In the Bulletin of this date I find the following publication. (Inclosed, marked B.) Instead of publishing the letter of Hon. George W. McClellan, Second Assistant Postmaster General, the editor of the Bulletin republished the article which appeared in his paper of the 30th, with comments. I have in another communication requested you to publish the official letter of the Second Assistant Postmaster General, which bears the same date (26th May) as the communication from the correspondent of the Bulletin. The editor of the Bulletin did not publish the letter from the Second Assistant Postmaster General. His reasons for declining are unknown to me, but the public may be able to decide which is in error, the Second Assistant Postmaster General or the correspondent of the Bulletin and its editor.

Respectfully,
W. J. ROSS,
General Superintendent.

LETTER FROM SECOND ASSISTANT POSTMASTER-GENERAL GEO. W. M'CLELLAN.

[COPY.]
POSTOFFICE DEPARTMENT,
CONTRACT OFFICE,
WASHINGTON, MAY 26, 1868.

Sir: It is proper, perhaps, to notify you officially that by orders telegraphed to postmasters and others on the 12th inst., the New York and Philadelphia mails for and from New Orleans have been transferred from the Western or Louisville route to the route via Lynchburg, Knoxville, Chattanooga and Grand Junction, distinguished by the Department as the Southern Route; and it is gratifying to be able to add that the records from the New York postoffice to May 23d show that since the transfer every mail from New Orleans has arrived on time—the average time of transit of the eight mails between New Orleans and New York being eighty-six hours and seventeen minutes.

Respectfully,
(Signed) GEORGE W. MCCLELLAN,
Second Assistant Postmaster-General.
SAM TATE, Esq., President Memphis & Charleston Railroad Company, Memphis, Tenn.

MEMPHIS & CHALESTON R. R.,
GEN. SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE,
MEMPHIS, TENN., May 30, 1868.

To the Editors of the Memphis Bulletin:

Gentlemen: I find in your paper of this date, the following communication from your Washington correspondent:

"IRREGULARITY OF MAILS.—Much complaint is made here of the irregularity of the mails from the South and Southwest. Memphis papers very often do not arrive here till five days after their publication, and New Orleans papers are a week or more on the way. There is but one through train daily from this city to these points, and this should be remedied. Two daily trains, at least, should be placed on the road, and a proper subsidy paid to those roads carrying Government matter."

As it is evident your correspondent is in error relative to the irregularity of the mails, will you do the line which transports the Great Southern and Southwestern mails justice by publishing the following official communication from the Second Assistant Postmaster General, W. J. Ross, General Superintendent Memphis and and Charleston railroad Company?

"THE MAILS.—Captain W. J. Ross, the efficient and gentlemanly General Superintendent of the Memphis and Charleston railroad, has written us a note, complaining of the following from our Washington correspondent.

[Here follows the card published above, entitled "Irregularities of Mails."]

"Captain Ross says, in reply to this, that our correspondent is in error, but while we are willing to admit that the fault may not be chargeable to the Memphis and Charleston Railroad, which is certainly one of the best managed roads in the South, yet we know whereof we speak when we say that within the past two months there has been great irregularity both in the letter and newspaper mails between this city and Washington. We have frequently received our correspondent's letters, two and three on the same day, that were mailed on consecutive days.

"Our correspondent is well aware of the fact, but he does not cast any reflection upon the lines of transportation, neither do we, but we are too often made to feel the disappointment and annoyance of the irregularity of which our correspondent writes."

NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION AT NEW YORK—HALF FARE.—The Memphis and Charleston Railway will carry Delegates and visitors to the Democratic Convention to be held in New York, 4th of July at HALF FARE, return tickets being issued on payment of fare one way at the following Ticket Offices: Memphis, 278 Main street, and Memphis and Charleston Depot; Little Rock, Anthony House. ma30 1w

RIVER MATTERS.

WEATHER AND RIVERS.

Weather warm, but cloudy towards evening, with light indications of rain. The river at this point is falling steadily. It is now fully 15 inches below the highth attained by the last rise. At Cairo the Ohio is declining at the rate of 3 feet in 24 hours, but the late spurt from above may check the fall somewhat. The Louisville Courier of Saturday says: "River about stationary, with 7 feet 3½ inches in the canal, 5 feet 3½ inches in the chute, and 4 feet 3½ inches over the locks." Later advices will be found in our dispatches of last night. The Cincinnati Commercial of Saturday says: "Here the river has receded 22 inches during the 24 hours ending last night, with 18 feet in the channel by the waterworks mark, and 84 feet under the Covington bridge for passing steamers." At St. Louis the river is falling, as is also the upper Mississippi and tributaries but the Missouri. A Helena, Montana, dispatch of the 28th says: "There is a larger quantity of snow now in the mountains than at the same time last season. Heavy rains in the valleys the past four days." At Omaha the river rose 6 inches on the 29th. The Arkansas is falling, with 4 feet to Fort Smith. White river is falling.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Matters were very quiet along the levee yesterday. The hot sun had even driven the black brigade to seek some cooler place, and the promiscuous line of battle daily formed by them upon and around the old spars which lie along the bluff like logs upon an earthwork were entirely deserted. Rural shades, suburban whisky shops or old Morpheus had enveloped them as with a cloud, and scarcely one was to be seen at his accustomed haunts. A few boatmen of the less favored complexion were sweltering under the hurricane roofs of steamers and wharfboats, but were too much exhausted to repeat an item if they knew one. At the Star wharfboat ice water and other little adjuncts of the heated term were not to be found. The packet company were better provided, but as all hands, including Captain Fiem, were asleep, our time was lost in a visit to that point. At the city wharfboat we found Captain Larry in morning costume, surrounded by his clerks and roustabouts armed with fans, all using great exertions to keep their chief from simmering down, but not even little rivulets of perspiration and grease from trickling along the deck and floating off upon the bosom of the mighty river like coal oil upon the streams of Pennsylvania.

The Silver Moon, Capt. Ben Merrielees, came in yesterday, and leaves for Cincinnati to-morrow, making all way landings.

The Celeste came in last night with a good passenger trip. She had the cabin and deck crew of the Centralia.

The splendid City of Cairo, whereof Crane is master, and Billy Blenker clerk, will back out this evening at 6 p.m. for Cairo and St. Louis, connecting with the Northern line of packets for St. Paul, and boats for the Missouri.

The fine United States mail packet Commercial, Capt. Ashford, leaves tomorrow for all points on White river and its tributaries. Charley Smither clerk.

The Mollie Hambleton is the regular Tuesday packet for St. Francis river. Tom Bowman is master, and Messrs. Paine, Clark and Shell clerks.

The Celeste, Capt. Pritchard, backs out at 5 p.m. this evening for the Arkansas, making all way landings to Fort Smith. She takes the place of the Centralia in the line, carrying the United States mail.

Thomas G. Gordon, of Gordon & Co., Parkersburg, has been appointed Surveyor of Customs for the port of Parkersburg, the district extending from Marietta, Ohio, to Catlettsburg, Ky. Steamers running within the district will report at Parkersburg, instead of Wheeling, as heretofore, upon the change of owners' papers.

Alex. McCullough has opened a "correct" room over the Brilliant in Whisky chute, and gave a grand opening on Saturday night.

The Lent Leoti, bound up, arrived at Omaha in a sinking condition. She struck a snag which caused her to leak badly, damaging part of her cargo. It was considered unsafe to proceed.

Edward Sturges, watchman of the tow-boat Sam Brown, on Thursday night fell from a barge in tow of the boat, above Cape Girardeau, and was drowned.

The W. R. Arthur left St. Louis on Saturday evening for New Orleans. The Great Republic is advertised to leave that port on Tuesday.

The fine passenger packet, Frank Pargoud, Capt. Tobin, will pass up to-day for Cairo and St. Louis. Geo. Williams and Oscar Benedict are her secretaries. She brings a shipment of 80,000 of the choicest Havana cigars for Lou Leubrie.

Our Latest Improved
NEW SCALE PIANO-FORTE.
GROVESTEEN & CO.,
499 Broadway, N. Y.,
THESE instruments, after the most flattering testimonials from the first Pianists in the country, who, at our solicitation, have tested them in the severest manner possible, have been pronounced THE FINEST SQUARE PIANO-FORTE MADE IN THE WORLD.
It has always been our policy, during the thirty-six years that we have manufactured Pianos, twelve thousand of which are now in use in the United States and Europe, to give the finest instrument at the lowest cost. Our superior facilities enable us to offer them from one to three hundred dollars less than any other First Class House.
The tone of these instruments are remarkable for their peculiar Sweetness and Great Brilliancy, never losing their quality when forced to their utmost capacity. The lower register retaining its positiveness, does not destroy the middle and upper registers by mingling with them in disagreeable confusion, the refined beauty of tone being equally delightful to the unpractised ear, as the most cultivated musical.
They are an entirely new style of Piano, finished in the most superb manner, with four full round corners front and back, French carved legs and Lyre Serpentine Base richly moulded, and each instrument is fully warranted for five years. sep6 dawly

Trustee's Sale.
UNDER and by virtue of a Deed of Trust to me executed by Charles Pfannenstiehl, on the 3d day of March, 1866, and duly recorded in the Register's office of Shelby county, Tennessee, in Record Book No 56, part second, pages 108 and 109 and 110 and 111, I will, on Monday, the Eighteenth (18) of May, 1868,

Between the hours of 10 a.m. and 4 p.m., on the premises, sell, at public sale, to the highest bidder, for cash, the following described property: A certain parcel of land situate, lying and being in the city of Memphis, the county of Shelby and the State of Tennessee, and described as follows, to-wit: Being a part of Lot numbered three hundred and seventy-one (371), as designated upon the original plan or plat of the town of Memphis, which part of said lot is thus bounded: Beginning at the northeast corner of a lot formerly known as Cromwell's; thence east with Jefferson street fifty-eight (58) feet to its intersection with Third street; thence south with Third street one hundred and forty-eight (148) feet six (6) inches to another alley; thence north with said last alley thirty-six (36) feet to the south boundary line of the Cromwell lot aforesaid; thence east with said boundary line ninety (90) feet and six (6) inches to the southeast corner of the aforesaid Cromwell lot; thence north with the east boundary line of said Cromwell lot one hundred and twelve (112) feet and six (6) inches to the said beginning—together with all the appurtenances thereunto belonging. Said Deed of Trust was executed to secure the payment of certain promissory notes to Edwin W. Lehman for the balance of the purchase money. Redemption waived. Title perfect, but sell only as Trustee.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE NATIONAL
COMPANY.
A new enterprise, to be known as the National Telegraph Company, has been organized with valuable franchises conferred by a recent act of Congress for the purpose of establishing Trunk Lines of Telegraphs on all the principal railroads and mail routes in the United States. The stock is to be issued upon the same principle as that of the Merchant's Union Express Company, which recently commenced operations. The design is to interest the entire business community in the enterprise. This is done, not so much to dispose of the stock as it is to secure the business of the country through which the lines pass.
The Capital is to be
$10,000,000,
In 100,000 Shares, of the par value of
$100 PER SHARE,
But the actual amount to be paid in cash is
$35 Per Share,
And this amount is to be paid as follows: One per cent. of the par at the time of subscribing, and no more, until the entire capital has been subscribed, and then on calls to be made by the Board of Directors; instalments not to exceed five per cent. per month. When thirty-five per cent. of the par value of the shares has been paid, certificates of stock will be issued This will give the company a paid up
CASH CAPITAL OF $3,500,000,
Which will be sufficient to duplicate lines to all or nearly all the paying points reached by the present monopoly.
The present Telegraph Companies of the country have been consolidated into one huge monopoly, and are now earning over SIX MILLIONS OF DOLLARS per year, or over one hundred per cent. on the actual cost of their lines, their present capital having been watered over ONE THOUSAND per cent.
THE NATIONAL TELEGRAPH COMPANY have a recognition from the United States Government of the importance of their enterprise, with a grant of the most valuable franchises ever conferred upon a telegraph company. No competing line has ever had the right now granted by Congress to this company to construct and operate lines over every RAILROAD and MAIL ROUTE in the United States. The position of this company differs from that of any company ever before organized. The question of the RIGHT OF WAY IS FOREVER SETTLED.
The stockholders of this company cannot be sold out or TRANSFERRED to any other company. The act of Congress under which this company has been organized, prohibits any transfer of the franchises granted.

CALLS---HOW TO BE MADE.
One per cent. of the Stock will be required on subscribing, and subsequent calls, not to exceed five per cent. per month, will be made by the Board of Directors, from time to time, as may be necessary, to supply funds to construct and equip the lines; but no calls will be made after the one per cent. is paid, until the ENTIRE CAPITAL STOCK shall have been subscribed.

ACTUAL CAPITAL REQUIRED
The Company confidently believe that thirty-five per cent. of the Capital Stock will construct and fully equip
25,000 MILES OF WIRE,
Which will connect all the commercial centers and important places in the United States This opinion rests upon the most reliable estimates and responsible offers to construct and equip the lines.
The National Telegraph Company is organized under the Laws of the State of New York and franchises conferred by an act of Congress, approved July 24, 1866.

MEMPHIS APPEAL

A WOMAN'S PERSEVERANCE.

In 1798 M. de Talleyrand was in Boston. One day, whilst crossing the market-place, he was compelled to stop by a long row of wagons, all loaded with vegetables. The wily courtier, generally so dead to emotion, could not but look with a kind of pleasure at these wagons and the little wagoners, who, by-the-by, were young and pretty country-women. Suddenly, as the vehicles came to a stand, the eyes of M. de Talleyrand chanced to rest upon one of the young women, who appeared more lovely and graceful than the others. An exclamation escaped from his lips. It attracted the attention of the fair one, whose country dress and large hat bespoke daily visits to the market. As she beheld the astonished Talleyrand, who she recognized immediately, she burst out laughing.

"What! is it you?" exclaimed she.

"Yes, indeed, it is I. But you—what are you doing here?"

"I," said the young woman, "am waiting for my turn to pass on. I am going to sell my greens and vegetables at the market."

At that moment the wagons began to move on, and she of the straw hat applied the whip to her horse, told M. de Talleyrand the name of the village where she was living, and requesting him earnestly to come and see her, disappeared, leaving him as if riveted to the spot by this strange apparition.

Who was this young market woman? Madame la Comtesse de la Tours-du-Pin, (Mademoiselle de Dillon), the most elegant among the ladies of the court of Louis XVI, King of France, and whose moral and intellectual worth had shone with such dazzling lustre in the society of her numerous admirers and friends. At the time when the French nobility emigrated she was young, lively, endowed with the most remarkable talents, and, like all the ladies who had held a rank at court, had only had time to attend to such duties as belonged to her highly fashionable and courtly life.

Let any one fancy the sufferings of that woman, born in the lap of wealth, who had breathed nothing but perfume under the gilded ceilings of the royal palace of Versailles, when all at once she found herself surrounded with blood and massacres, and saw every kind of danger besetting her young and beloved husband and infant child. They succeeded in fleeing from France. It was their good fortune to escape from the bloody land where Robespierre and his associates were busy at the work of death. Alas! in those days of terror the poor children themselves abandoned the parental roof, for no hiding-place was secure against the vigilant eyes of those monsters who thirsted for innocent blood. The fugitives landed in America and first went to Boston, where they found the fashionable and pretty lady, spoiled from infancy by loud and continued praises of her beauty!

Monsieur de la Tours-du-Pin was extravagantly fond of his wife. At the court of France he had seen her, with the proud eye of a husband, the object of general admiration. Indeed, her conduct had always been virtuous and exemplary; but now, in a foreign land, and among unsophisticated republicans, (1793) what was the use of courtly refinements? Happy as he was in seeing her escape from all the perils he had dreaded on her account, still he could not but deplore the future lot of the wife of his bosom. However, with the prudent foresight of a good father and a kind husband, he nerved himself against despair, and exerted himself to render their condition less miserable than that of many emigrants, who were starving when the little money they brought over with them had been exhausted. Not a word of English did he know, but his wife spoke it fluently and admirably well.

They boarded at Mrs. Muller's, a good natured notable woman, who on every occasion showed the greatest respect and admiration for her fair boarder. Yet M. de la Tours-du-Pin was in constant dread lest the conversation of that good, plain and well meaning woman might be the cause of great ennui to his lady. What a contrast to the society of such gentlemen as M. de Norbonne, M. de Talleyrand, and the high minded and polished nobility of France! Whenever thinking of this transition, (especially when absent from his wife and tilling the garden of the cottage they were going to inhabit), he felt such pangs and heart throbbings as to make him apprehensive, on his return to Mrs. Muller's, to meet the looks of his beloved wife, whom he expected to see bathed in tears. Meanwhile, the good hostess would give him a hearty shake of the hand, and repeat to him: "Happy husband! happy husband!"

At last came the day when the fugitive family left the boarding-house of Mrs. Muller to go and inhabit their little cottage, where they were to be at least exempt from want, with an only servant, a negro, a kind of Jack-of-all-trades, viz: gardener, footman and cook—the last function M. de la Tours-du-Pin dreaded most of all to see him undertake.

It was almost dinner-time. The emigrant went into his garden to gather some fruit, and tarried as long as possible. On his return home his wife was absent. Looking for her, he entered the kitchen, and saw a young countrywoman with her back to the door, kneading dough, her arms of snowy whiteness bare to the elbows. M. de la Tours-du-Pin started; the young woman turned round. It was his beloved wife, who had exchanged her muslin and silk for a country dress—not as for a fancy ball, but to play the part of a real farmer's wife. At the sight of her husband her cheeks crimsoned, and she joined her hands in a supplicating manner: "O! my love," said she, "don't laugh at me; I am as expert as Mrs. Muller."

Too full of profound emotion to speak, he clasped her to his bosom and kissed her frequently. From his inquiries, he learned that when he imagined her given up to despair, she had employed her time more usefully for their future happiness. She had taken lessons from Mrs. Muller and her servants, and after six months had become skillful in the culinary art, and a thorough housekeeper—discovering her angelic nature and admirable fortitude.

"Dearest," continued she, "if you knew how easy it is. We in a moment understand what costs a countrywoman sometimes one or two years. Now we shall be happy; you will no longer be afraid of ennui for me, nor doubt my abilities, of which I will give you many proofs," said she, looking with a bewitching smile upon him. "Come, come, you promised us a salad, and I am going to bake for to-morrow; the oven is hot. To-day the bread of the town will do—but, O! henceforth leave it to me."

From that moment Madam de la Tours-du-Pin kept her word. She insisted on going herself to Boston to sell her vegetables and cream cheeses. It was on such errand that M. de Talleyrand met her. The day after he paid her a visit, and found her in the poultry yard, surrounded by a host of fowls, hungry chicks and pigeons. She was all that she had promised to be. Besides, her health had been so much benefitted that she seemed less fatigued by the housework than if she had attended balls in the winter. Her beauty, which had been remarkable in her gorgeous palace of Versailles, was dazzling in her cottage in the new world; so M. de Talleyrand said to her.

"Indeed," replied she, with naivete, "indeed, do you think so? I am delighted to hear it. A woman is always and everywhere proud of her personal attractions."

At that moment the black servant bolted into the drawing-room, holding in his hand his jacket with a long rent in the back.

"Missis, him jacket torn; please mend him."

She immediately took a needle, repaired Cullah's jacket, and continued the conversation with a charming simplicity.

This little adventure made a deep impression on the mind of M. de Talleyrand, who used to relate it with that tone of voice peculiar to him.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY APPEAL,
MEMPHIS, May 30, 1868.

The next tax bill which was to have come up in Congress sometime during the week, just closing, is a matter of much greater importance than is supposed by many. The Commercial Bulletin of New York has an editorial upon this subject, in which the matter is placed before the people in only a few of its most objectionable lights:

The Bill now before Congress may be briefly defined. It is a continuance of the principle of the existing system of taxation, with important changes in details, which are expected to remove or obviate the practical defects which are now so apparent.

In the first place the control of and responsibility for the revenue are taken from the President and Secretary of the Treasury, and a new official with a salary of $6000 a year is entrusted with the entire power. This alone is a grave innovation. There is absolutely no check to this official. He may appoint or remove subordinates, establish and suppress bureaus, remit fines and penalties, and exercise powers which Congress has never before entrusted to the highest Executive authority selected directly by the people. There can be no doubt that the new office, on account of its vast and unconstitutional influence over no less than 30,000 revenue officials, will be more valuable than the Presidency, and will offer vastly greater facilities for corruption.

The other features of the bill respecting the collection of the revenue on tobacco, whisky, and other commodities, by means of stamps, may be regarded as improvements. But the persistence in the $2 tax on whisky does not seem to be justified by the details of the measure. So far as regards the particular tax the bill may be regarded as a despotism. It will lead to vast frauds, a fearful amount of perjury, or a very large increase in the revenue. Upon this subject we can only be said that there is no example in history where any possible extremity of pains and penalties succeeded in securing the enforcement of a tax levy that offered a premium of six or eight hundred per cent. for its violation. If the very stringent provisions of the new bill with its penalties of fine and imprisonment effect this object it will be an exception.

The new bill will sweep all the small manufacturers of whisky out of existence, and concentrate the entire business in the hands of a few capitalists. It will also compel the partial reconstruction of all the distilleries. It introduces new provisions and multiplies the officials. As the great trouble with the present law is the impossibility of procuring honest whisky collectors, it does not appear how a large increase of their number can increase the revenue. This is a question of the more importance as the question of a deficit in the next fiscal year depends upon the successful collection of the tax of $2 per gallon on all the whisky consumed in the United States.

In the local money market we have but to repeat our quotations of yesterday. Eastern Exchange is taken at par, and sold at ¼ premium. Bills on St. Louis, Nashville, and cities along the Ohio, are sold at ¼ premium. New Orleans Sight buying at ½ discount and selling at par.

Gold opened in New York at 139¼ and closed at 139½. Dealers in this market buy at 138@138¼. Selling at 139¼@140.

City Scrip is quiet; a few small sales occurred during the day at 71½@73c to dealers who ask 74@75c for large pieces. Small ones are held from 1@2c higher.

County Warrants are dull and tending downwards, 60@62c were the buying rates to-day. Selling at 73@75c. Small warrants 76@78c.

Police Scrip is steady with no demand except from tax payers. Buying at 84@85c; selling at 88@90c.

The Liverpool Cotton market was firm at the opening to-day—uplands 11¼d; Orleans 11¼d. At the close the market was firm and unchanged. Sales 10,000 bales.

The New York market was quiet but steady at the opening. At 2 p.m. the market was weak but not quotably lower, and closed the same. Sales 500 bales; week's sales 8000; week's receipts 5000; exports 2620; stock 67,000; week's receipts at all United States ports, 5500 bales.

Our market was as usual very quiet. A few buyers having spinners' orders to fill were out on the streets, but were not willing to buy at anything over 28c for middlings—at which figure some holders let go some straggling bales. There is no speculative inquiry, and more sellers than buyers.

Letter from Mayor Leftwich in Answer to Inquirer.
MEMPHIS, May 30, 1868.
Editors Memphis Appeal:
In reply to "Inquirer" in this morning's APPEAL, I am glad to be able to say the City Mills on Third street, near Beal, with four run of stones and all the modern improvements, will commence business as soon as the arrival of wheat justifies it, and will run night and day to its full capacity—manufacturing about one hundred and fifty barrels of flour per day throughout the season.
Other smaller mills in the city, among them the well known Poplar street mills, I learn, are also preparing for active operations. The ruinous policy of paying freight and other charges on wheat to St. Louis, and then paying similar charges on flour back to Memphis, has been indulged in long enough, and is one cause of our present poverty.
It is to be hoped the farmers will not, as last year, crowd all their wheat on the market at once, as they cannot thus expect to get its value. The neighbors of those who forced their wheat off last year at about $1 50 per bushel, had in many instances to pay from three to four dollars per bushel for seed wheat. They should also remember that wheat which remains in the stack a few weeks before threshing will make better flour, and, as a consequence, is worth more money.
Very respectfully, etc.,
JNO. W. LEFTWICH.

Mr. Benjes, a well-known miller, sends the following:
Editors Memphis Appeal:
In an article (which appeared in your issue yesterday), an "Inquirer" asks if there will be a market here for wheat? I feel assured in saying that there will be a market here for all the wheat raised in this section of the county. I propose to grind at least one thousand bushels per week; and some two or three other mills will each have a capacity as great, or perhaps greater than mine. We also propose, during the wheat season, to lay in a supply to continue running long after the harvest season is over—and as to the price, I am disposed to make this a better market for the planter, than to ship to the North, and in return to furnish as good flour as is ever brought from any source, and at as low prices. WM. BENJES,
Corner Jackson and Second streets, Memphis Tenn.
